Marie Jenkins was a very popular person Wednesday evening in West Guilford. She was the lady with the free bubble gum and was obviously enjoying the attention from youngsters at the Canada Day celebrations in that community. The all-day picnic included races, a baseball game, competitions, and entertainment. The celebration was capped with a fireworks display.

Acid rain message ignored by U.S.: MOE

Acid rain is not just a Canadian problem and the U.S. public has to be made aware of its involvement and contribution, a Ministry of Environment official told Haliburton County residents Friday night.

Walter Giles, MOE's senior executive deputy minister spoke to close to 50 people at the Haliburton Legion about the Canada-U.S. negotiations and discussions on the subject.

"The U.S. is not convinced it is causing the problem," said Giles. "But, we are serious about seeing the problem solved."

Acid rain is a term used to describe precipitation which has higher than normal acid levels. The increased acidity is the result of sulphur and nitrogen emissions from coal and oil-fired industrial processes, including electrical generation. When the sulphur and nitrogen mix with water vapor and oxygen in the atmosphere the "acid rain" is created. Carried over hundreds of miles by constantly moving weather patterns, the acid rain falls far from its point of origin.

The major concern surrounding acid rain at this point is the impact it is having on aquatic life. Slight changes in a lake's acidity can alter drastically the type of fish and plant life that body of water can support. While major research efforts are now underway to determine the extent of damage to Ontario waterbodies, scientists are also concerned about the impact the acidic rain is having on trees and other vegetation.

A joint Canada-U.S. research group, established in 1978, has concluded that on an annual average basis, about three to four times as much sulphur moves across the boundary from the U.S. to eastern Canada as in the opposite direction.

Giles said one of the most important steps in negotiation between the two countries took place last August when federal Environment Minister John Roberts and then U.S. Secretary of State Ed Muskie signed a "memorandum of intent" to curb acid rain and resolve international air pollution problems.

The other important issue, said Giles, is the U.S. Clean Air Act.

The legislation, passed in 1972 in the United States, requires new power plants burning coal to install emission controls for all plants built after 1975. But existing plants are not suibject to the same requirements. In effect, the Clean Air Act protects the existing plants.

"The Clean Air Act is the key," said Giles. Canada is opposed to coal plants which are exempt from the U.S. regulations and we hope changes can be made.

He said five working groups have been established to prepare data so that the two countries can reach a proper agreement soon. Each group is dealing with a different

Committee closer to oversee hospital transfer

The steering committee which will help decide the future of the Minden and Haliburton Red Cross Hospitals has been chosen. The names of those selected for the committee was announced earlier this week by the Haliburton, Kawartha and Pine Ridge District Health Council.

The committee will consider a number of options for the local facilities. The Canadian Red Cross announced over a year ago that it intended to end its administration of the two hospitals, as well as a number of others in the province. The announcement prompted the district health council to form a committee and ask for volunteers from both communities to serve. A meeting two months ago drew a full house at PineStone Inn and numerous residents from both communities and surrounding townships offered their services.

It is expected the committee, once it is operational, will be holding a number of public meetings to assess the views of the communities as to the future of the two facilities.

Among those chosen from the general public are Stu Brandon, former Anson, Hindon and Minden Township councillor, Pat Kennedy of Haliburton, Ray Cox, a resident of Snowdon Township, and Ed Pettinger, a resident of Lutterworth Township.

The Minden Red Cross Society will be represented by Jim Burton while the Haliburton Red Cross Society will be represented by K. Morely. Members of the medical community who will serve on the committee include Dr. Blair Pierce of Haliburton and Dr. Jeff Lodenquai of Minden.

Two representatives of the Minden and Dysart councils were also named to the committee. They include Minden councillor Lyle

A Main Street with a past

A long and winding road.

It was supposed to run from Port Hope to Bobcaygeon and north to Lake Nipissing and its purpose was to entice settlers to the new land in the heart of what is now known as Haliburton County.

Many people today think of the Bobcaygeon Road as the main street in Minden and even though parts of it have been abandoned and allowed to deteriorate, it provided many travellers with a route north to Canad'a hinterland.

It was during the 1850's and 60's that the Canadian government initiated plans for several colonization roads to open the way for settlement in the arable lands along the Great Lakes and in the interior regions of Ontario.

The plan was to have one key road, the Ottawa-Opeongo, running from the Ottawa River to Lake Opeongo. It was hoped to later extend it to Georgian Bay at the mouth of the Magnetawan River.

Forming a branch off the Opeongo Road, Bell's Line or as some called it, Muskoka Road, was to run west to the Muskoka River.

These two main thoroughfares would be intersected by several other roads, parallel to one another, running south and north. One of these roads was the Bobcaygeon Road.

In 1856, construction began at the town of Bobcaygeon. Builders were hampered by the rugged land, streams and lakes which made a straight route impossible. Two years later, the Bobcaygeon Road was open to one mile north of Burnt River, about 18 miles from its starting point in Bobcaygeon.

Lands along the route, from the boundaries of Anson, Hindon, Ridout, Minden, Stanhope, Sherbourne and Franklin townships were advertised the following year. In the first four months, four thousand acres were sold.

By the time the road reached Minden, a party had been organized to celebrate. Early settlers like Harry Dawkins, Ben Sawyer Sr., William and Henry Burns and Francis Kent were ready. The early records say the celebration continued for four days and five nights.

The government abandoned its hope to have the road to extend to Lake Nipissing after several deaths by scurvy cut into the ranks of the construction party. But, perhaps the northward push lost its momentum more because of a dwindling interest in the land along the road. The northern part of the road was never built, but was completed as far as Dorset.

This portion was changed during the 1930's and still runs east of the Boshkung Lake, parallel to Highway 35. Another part of the original road is now the Hillside Road where the Austrian Village Restaurant is located.

Settlement was popular

DINING OUT in the HIGHLANDS

The Setting

The spotlight this week is certainly on the Schnitzel House in Minden.

This fine restaurant, on Highway 35, has gained an enviable reputation for its fine cuisine and friendly service. Operated by Otto and Irmgard Homestead, the restaurant features a German motif and specializes in German dishes.

We've placed the Schnitzel House in the spotlight this week however, because of special activity taking place there.

This weekend the owners officially open their Duke of Minden dining room. The extension at the rear of the chalet style structure has more than doubled the seating capacity of the restaurant.

While the new addition will be named the Duke of Minden dining room, the original portion of the restaurant will be known as "The Hunter's Den". Plans are in the works to expand this room later this year, to increase the seating capacity from 30 to 50. Both rooms will be available for banquets or meetings.

Sometime in the near future a patio will be added to the rear of the structure giving patrons an opportunity to enjoy the Schnitzel House's fine cooking in the out of doors.

Of special note is the opening this Saturday. It is by invitation only, and you can get yours this week at the restaurant. A flat charge of $10 per person will be levied, and all funds collected will be turned over to the Canadian Kidney Foundation and the Haliburton and District Lions Club.

Hospital committee

McKnight and Dysart Reeve and County Warden Murray Fearrey.

The committee will also include two members from the district health council. They are Don Moir, of Lindsay who is slated to be named the chairman of the health council, and Dr. Maurice Clarkson, who is also a member of the Peterborough medical-dental advisory committee to the health council. Both these members have extensive experience in hospital management in their respective communities.

The chairman of the steering committee will be Jim Swanston, a member of the health council. A representative of the Red Cross from Toronto will also serve on the committee.

The committee is expected to meet later this month or in early August to lay the groundwork for the group's deliberations. When the committee has considered the question, recommendations will be made to the district health council, which, upon approving the findings of the committee, will pass those recommendations on to the Ministry of Health for final approval and implementation.

aspect of the acid rain issue and each includes Canadian and American researchers.

But, there might be a problem because, as Giles pointed out, the change in U.S. government means "we're starting from scratch again."

He added, "We haven't slowed down on planning, we'll keep working but we need the support of the U.S. public."

He said their level of perception of the problem is not as high as it is in Canada.

Along with Giles' talk, a MOE produced film, "Crisis in The Rain" explained what acid rain is and its effects on lakes, fish populations, soil, buildings and people.

Filmed in the Muskoka-Haliburton region, it pointed out that the Lake of Bays area is affected by rain from the Ohio Valley, almost 500 miles away.

It also discussed the testing procedures being done in Dorset and the experimental liming programs in several Haliburton County lakes by MOE scientists, including Nellie and Dickie Lakes.

Liming is a procedure whereby lime or limestone is added to heavily acidified lakes to act as a buffering or neutralizing agent. The film pointed out this is not a solution to the acid rain problem but a "stop gap" measure.

Giles said the film is now being used widely in Canada and will hopefully be distributed throughout the U.S.

After the meeting, Giles, Dr. Tom Brydges, a ministry scientist and Ron Reid, from the MOE acid rain investigation in Dorset, answered questions from the interested gathering.

MOE official Murray Cheetham spoke at the Haliburton Legion meeting on acid rain.

Committee needs support

One of the most important elements of any community is the health facilities.

Even those in the best of health look for reassurance for a well-equipped modern health facility within a community. That fact was obvious two months ago when residents of both Minden and Haliburton crowded into PineStone Inn to hear about plans for the first steps leading to local control of the two Highlands Red Cross hospitals.

From that meeting, and with some lobbying since, a committee has been chosen to study how best control can be transferred from the Canadian Red Cross to the local communities. The question facing this group of diverse citizens is complex and multi-faceted. A number of proposals have already surfaced for the change-over.

It appears the district health council favours some sort of "twinning" arrangement whereby the local hospitals would become an annex of larger hospitals in Peterborough and Lindsay. There is merit in this suggestion, but there are also drawbacks. Chief among these is the feeling in some quarters that it would simply be transferring control from one external body, the Red Cross, to another, the larger hospital boards. There is also some question as to whether the larger hospitals are anything but eager to accept this new responsibility, even with the addition of local representation on their governing bodies.

Other options include transferring total control to local authorities, be they existing elected bodies or governing boards elected at large, creating a management board for both hospitals, or turning the responsibilities over to a management company with a local board to oversee its activities.

There are other approaches and variations which the committee must now consider. There is little doubt the deliberations will be long and tedious. Those who volunteered knew they were taking on a serious task.

But simply because a committee has been selected to consider the question is no reason for the residents served by these two hospitals to abdicate their interest in the outcome. Indeed, since the health facilities are such an important part of the community, everyone should be prepared to support the committee in its deliberations, offering encouragement and ideas. Only through careful consideration of all the options can the citizens of the Highlands be assured they are receiving the best service possible from today's, and tomorrow's hospitals.

Worth noting

Hats off to the organizers in West Guilford for a bang-up Canada Day celebration. We understand that the fun-filled day was enjoyed by everyone in attendance and know the fireworks display in the evening proved to be a fitting close to this nation's birthday.

It is unfortunate more community groups do not take advantage of our nation's birthday for similar activities. It certainly adds to the spirit of the community and to the feeling that our's is a nation worth celebrating.

Summer blossoms

The following editorial appeared in the June/July edition of The Cottager Magazine over the signature of Jasper E. Moore, vice president of the Federation of Ontario Cottager's Association, (FOCA).

The front page of The Globe and Mail of November 10th, 1980 featured an article on cottagers and municipal elections. "In cottage country to the north of Metro," it read, "the biennial cry is being heard to have election day moved to October or earlier to make it easier for summer residents. Two years ago, the province bumped the Municipal Elections ahead one month from December but has resisted calls for anything earlier."

It is wrong to refer to this problem as a "biennial" one, nor is it restricted to cottagers north of Metro. The elections are biennial, but cottagers' need for representation is constant.

Those who purchase a rural summer retreat, thus joining that class of people called "cottagers," are often initially unwilling to "rock the boat". Though the cottager expects to pay his fair share of the taxes, to act as a constructive supporter and economic contributor to the community and to keep the environment clean and healthy for future generations, at the same time he frequently avoids involvement in the year round operation of the community, particularly in a political sense. These are "hassles" that the cottager is likely to associate with his urban incarnation. Though he may seek social acceptance within the community in an attempt to remove the stigma of "outsider", it is a policy of laissez-faire that is likely to predominate - an attitude that may last for a short period of time or continue for years.

Over the horizon of this rural paradise - as attractive to you as it is to hundreds of others - appears a "developer", armed with plans that will set visions of sugar plum commerce dancing in the heads of local politicians.

Utopia is under sentence of death, and the cottager wakes up to the fact that he has no voice in the future direction of his community. He realizes abruptly that though he and his fellow cottagers pay more than half the tax support in the community, they have no say in the disbursement of those tax dollars.

The appearance of a developer is not the only issue that will arouse the cottager. Perhaps the roads aren't graded as frequently as in the past, the lake water isn't as clear as it used to be, the local garbage dump is a mess or people are camping - perfectly legally - on the front 66 feet of his lot.

The end result is political involvement. The cottage association may decide to nominate a candidate from within its ranks, or it may approach a permanent resident who is interested in local politics and sympathetic to the aims and activities of the cottage community.

Now the cottager wants to vote in the municipal election, but in this case he is likely to face a long journey in rather uncertain weather, for elections are held in late November. Some associations whose members come from a single area have chartered buses so that large groups can attend the elections, and they have tended to be successful in the election of their candidates. This solution is not practical for all associations, however, because of financial and/or geographic constraints.

In a letter written to the Premier in January 1981, the President of FOCA, J. Strickland, stated that, "A Municipal Council is not receptive to the viewpoint of cottagers if most of those cottagers are unable to vote in biennial elections. It is very unjust that this major section of taxpayers is deprived of its franchise because elections are staged in November. We urge the provincial government to correct this injustice by revising the Municipal Election Act so that an Advance Poll can be held on the Saturday before Thanksgiving."

The government's usual reaction to this request is that it is far too costly and would move forward the preparation time for the election to an unacceptable date, though Mr. Strickland's letter to the Premier cited the election schedules of other provinces. "Alberta's Nomination Day is the third Wednesday in September and the regular Polling Day is four weeks later. Manitoba's Nominating Day is the first Wednesday in October and Polling Day is the fourth Wednesday in October."

The issue of cottager involvement in municipal elections has been further complicated by a resolution passed in December, 1980 by the Township of North Burgess, the purpose of the resolution being to exclude seasonal residents from office. All municipalities in Ontario have been asked to follow suit.

The Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Associations has written to the Minister of Intergovernmental Affairs strongly opposing the resolution. "The Federation cannot accept such a suggestion which, if adopted, would deny any possibility of participating in, or realistic representation in local governing for the majority of taxpayers in many cottage areas. It is inconceivable that cottagers who pay 50% and often a much larger proportion of taxes in a municipality should not be able to elect councillors who will look after their interests."

Fortunately, and not surprisingly, the Minister has declined to support the North Burgess resolution. It is worrying, however, that the motion was ever made, or that it received as much support as it did.

The problems of poorly timed elections and the proposed exclusion of cottagers from municipal elections do not give rise to a "biennial cry": they are constantly with us, and FOCA is constantly working with the legislators to protect the intersts of cottagers. The principle of "no taxation without representation" was established in England during the reign of Charles I. It would be interesting to observe the reactions of the municipalities if cottagers refused, en masse, to pay their taxes.

Delivery continues, but we are ready

At the moment local postal service is continuing and as long as these post offices are open The Times will use these facilities to distribute newspapers to subscribers. Individuals served by post offices in Minden, Haliburton, Kinmount, Norland and Dorset can expect to receive their newspaper by mail as long as these offices are operating.

In the event of the disruption of local postal service, special arrangements have been made for the distribution of subscription copies in Minden and Haliburton. Minden box holders and rural route subscribers will be able to pick up their copy of the newspaper from The Times office, Bobcaygeon Road north, from Wednesday noon on. Haliburton box holders and rural route subscribers will be able to pick up their copies of the paper from the Framing Studio, Oak Street, Haliburton, from Thursday morning on. Only the current issues of the newspaper will be available and those papers which are undelivered will be held until postal service resumes and then sent.

Coming up

Now until July 15: Annual Guild of Fine Arts exhibition and sale at Haliburton Senior Elementary School.

Sunday, July 12: Stanhope Fly-In and Air Show. At Stanhope Airport - 1:30 p.m.

Saturday, July 18: Lawn and Bake Sale, 10 a.m. - 1 p.m. Carnarvon United Church.

Kung Fu comes to Minden

Minden and area residents were treated to a display of martial arts Tuesday (June 30) evening. The demonstration followed a delicious oriental meal prepared by Marian Lodenquai and Don Nye.

The evening marked the end of the year for the Minden Youth, Fitness and Self Defense Club started last year by Gary Stephenson. Gary started the group in 1979 to give young people in the area an opportunity for recreation and an opportunity to learn Kung Fu. The oriental method of discipline is one he had learned while living in Toronto.

The course grew in popularity and now continues through the summer. Gary points out that since he has not attained his black belt, he is not a qualified instructor. "I am interested in passing what I have learned on to others, but I cannot assign the various belts which indicate the degree of proficiency in the sport." He noted that there is no qualified instructor in the area. "The closest operating club is Orillia," he said.

The group evolved from a recreation club to one dedicated to the martial arts. The fact that 83 people attended the demonstration Tuesday, and that some of those wanted to join class immediately is an indication of the popularity of the sport.

Last year's class included 16 participants. They meet at St. Paul's Anglican Church each Tuesday and Thursday evening. Participants are asked to contribute $1 for adults and 50¢ for children to help purchase equipment for the club.

"I am pleased with the way the club has gone this year," Gary commented. "The students have been enthusiastic and by the response last Tuesday, there is obviously an interest in the sport."

Anyone interested in taking part or just seeing what it is Kung Fu is all about should drop by the church any Tuesday or Thursday evening between 7 and 9 p.m.

FROM THE CHAMBER

By Bob Stinson

Haliburton Highlands

It's that time of year when there's something happening every week in the Highlands. A lot of planning and effort has gone into this year's activities and we would suggest you try to attend or take part in as many as possible. Here's a brief run down on what is happening this month.

Coming events

The Guild of Fine Arts Exhibition and Sale is already underway and continues through to July 12 at the Senior Elementary School in Haliburton. This exhibition gets bigger and better every year and the enthusiasm over this year's display has been overwhelming. Whether you wish to buy or just browse you certainly will not be disappointed. It's one of the biggest shows of its kind that you will see anywhere.

The Stanhope Air Show is taking place July 12 at the airport and this year in addition to the aircraft will feature an antique car exhibit. There will be Armed Forces displays including helicopter demonstrations and radio controlled model airplane competitions as well. Throughout the day sightseeing trips are available and a giant beef barbeque will be featured. The Air Show begins at 1:30 p.m., but get there early.

Stanhope does it again with their annual Stanhope Fun Day on July 25 at the Community Centre and Park. The day will consist of family fun activities including a dog show, kid's field day, horseshoe tournament, beef barbeque, craft and art exhibits, wheel's parade (for bicycles), and a senior's tea and bake sale and bingo. It will all wind up with a dance and buffet in the evening.

In Wilberforce this year's "Country Good Times" is destined to be the biggest and best ever in honour of Monmouth's centennial year. The famous Carlsberg team of horses will be there all weekend along with a great midway and displays and concessions. On Friday evening the beauty contest will be held and a country and western jamboree featuring Cathy Jean and the Log Cabin Boys will be held at the arena. In the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre a teen dance will be held with D.J. Collin Kressler in charge. A ladies softball tournament gets underway Saturday a.m. along with a flea market, bazaar and bake sale and the parade goes at 1:00 p.m. Bill Downer and the Country Plow Boys will back up the amateur contest in the afternoon as well as the Good times Ball in the evening. At the Lloyd Watson Centre it's Ken Hadley and South Willow on Saturday night. Sunday begins with a pancake breakfast, the ladies softball finals and winds up with a gymkahnan display by the Rocky Hills Riding Club from Cardiff and entertainment by Cimmaron.

What a week-end!

We would like to remind all our members of the many parades that are now coming up and how important it is to their ultimate success to have you participate in them. There is no cheaper way to advertise than this that we know of. The Wilberforce Country Good Times Centennial parade featuring the Carlsberg Horses on July 18 will be the first opportunity. This is followed by the Haliburton Legion Carnival Parade on Saturday, July 25. The Legion have completely restructured their event this year with an all new midway and fun rides group and a big parade featuring a number of great bands.

The Minden Carnival is the next event calling for a parade on Wednesday, July 29 followed by the Haliburton Rotary Carnival on the following Wednesday, August 5. The theme for Haliburton's parade this year is one close to our hearts – "Haliburton - A Vacation Paradise". Back at Minden again on August 7 a big parade signals the official opening of the Haliburton County Fair at the Minden Fair Grounds.

Now before you put all your regalia away until the Winter Carnivals you may want to take one more parade in at the Kinmount Fair, Saturday, September 5th (Labour Day Weekend). This parade has grown to an enormous size and certainly makes a suitable grand finale to a summer of parades.

July 1 was more than just Canada's birthday for Ivan Ingram of Minden. The 16-year-old, left, aced the par 4, 400 yard seventh hole at Beaverbrook Golf Club. Owner David Stevens said the accomplishment was unique in the club's history. With Ivan is his playing partner, Mike Hatkoski, also of Minden.

Car takes dive

A Minden woman's car had a mind of its own a week ago Monday.

Carol Lindsay parked her car at a cottage on Mountain Lake. She left the car in park and the motor running but the car rolled ahead, struck and rebounded off the cottage, drove across a dock and into the lake.

Mrs. Lindsay suffered minor injuries which occured when she fell while chasing her car.

Damage to the car was $800 and $50 to the dock.

Constable Bob Pearson investigated.

Sign off

It seems some people have little regard for other people's property.

Last Saturday, Dave Willis, owner of the Rockcliffe Hotel, reported the theft of his sign, "You're in Rockcliffe Country."

The large sign, valued at $500, had been located on the east side of Highway 35, south of Minden. The owner has offered a $50 reward for the return of the sign.

Constable Barry Connelly investigated the incident.

Good record

The normal summer rash of traffic accidents and other occurrences has not yet materialized according to Community Services Officer Gary Chapman.

The past week's total of 10 motor vehicle accidents is exactly half of the comparable period in 1980 when 18 reportable and two non-reportable accidents (one killed, four injured) were investigated.

The last accident in which a major injury occurred was May 23 when an 80-year-old man was killed while crossing Highway 503.

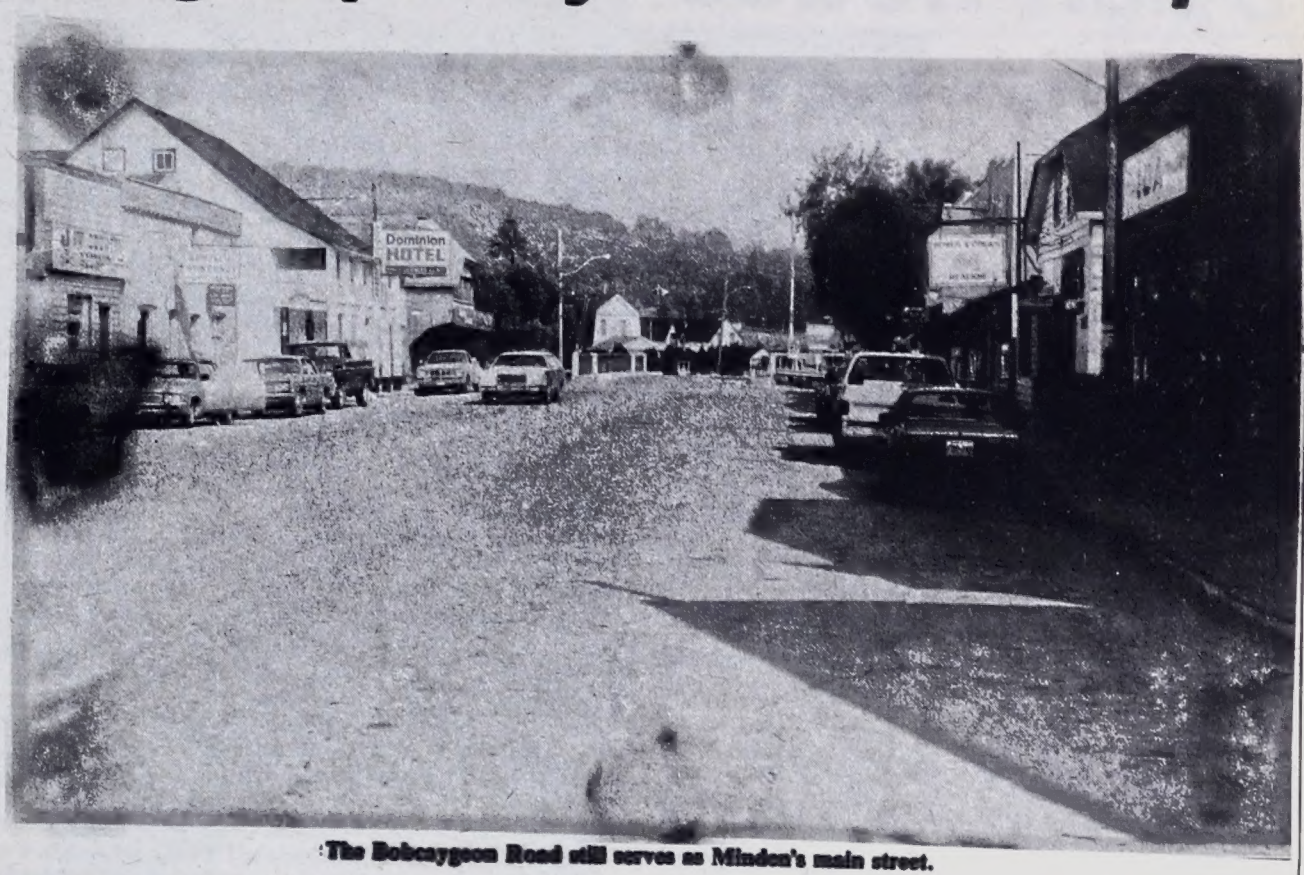
where Bobcaygeon Road met and bridged the Gull River in Minden. The land here was fertile and suitable for farming while still close to water for washing and recreational activities.

It is difficult to trace the exact and complete path of the Bobcaygeon Road today because so many changes have been made but one fact is still clear. The road serves now, as it did then, as a boundary line between two townships. Look at a county map which shows boundary lines and you can see the west side of the road is in Anson township while the east lies in Minden. This is still true today although because Anson, Hindon and Minden have amalgamated into one municipality, jurisdiction is not a problem.

However, it did cause quite a problem years ago when a local plebiscite voted to allow Anson a liquor licence but Minden was denied. Each side had a hotel and the matter was settled when the city fathers issued both a licence.

The Bobcaygeon Road was one of the grand old ladies of Ontario's colonization roads. She served the province well, bringing settlers into the heartland opening vast new areas to prospectors, loggers and finally farmers and settlers.

Over its 100 year history, portions of the road have been lost, abandoned, and paved over, but the route set out by those far-sighted pioneers still serves Minden and area well.



The Bobcaygeon Road still serves as Minden's main street.

The Bobcaygeon Road snakes through Minden in 1906.

New way for the old road

Many changes have altered the route and face of the Bobcaygeon Road over the years, and at least one more is in the works.

While the paved portion of the Bobcaygeon ends just north of Minden, the municipal council of Anson, Hindon and Minden township have recognized the value of a route that would connect with the Vankoughnet Road to the north. This connection could take on greater significance in the near future if plans to turn the Vankoughnet Road into a provincial highway become a reality.

In the meantime, the municipal council is studying ways to eliminate some of the sharper turns the route takes between here and the Vankoughnet Road. One particular hair-pin curve about 5 miles north of here is under study. The council would like to straighten the road at this point, eliminating the winding curve that snakes past the old log house, and driving straight through the wood to meet with the existing road at the top of the next hill. The plan is still uncertain as property rights, road rights-of-way and the lack of a precise survey of the area could hold up progress.

According to the Reeve, Lloyd Walker, the idea is still being worked out, "on paper", but it could be many years before it becomes a reality.

The plans are another example of the continuing changes and importance of the Bobcaygeon Road.

Mail service continues at reduced level

Postal service in the Minden and Haliburton areas continued this week but at a reduced level. With fewer parcels and letters to handle the local post offices have been forced to cut back on staff time.

According to Minden Postmaster Don Berry, local mail service will continue for the time being. He refused to speculate on how long the local service will remain operational. Berry noted that rural route delivery has been reduced to an "as needed" basis and the drivers for the local routes are "on call". He said the rural delivery would be working today, Wednesday, to ensure the newspapers are delivered.

Berry said officials in the post office ordered the reduction in hours and service as a result of the reduced work load.

He said arrangements have been made for the exchange of mail between Minden and Haliburton post offices but that this stop-gap measure required the continued operation of rural delivery by both offices. With that service reduced, the exchange of mail could be in jeopardy as well.

While letter sorters and inside workers are on strike at major post offices across the country, the staff at the smaller post offices remain on the job. They belong to a different union and will continue to provide local service until the smaller facilities are ordered closed by postal officials.

Post offices in Minden, Haliburton, Kinmount and Norland are continuing to provide local service for box holders and rural routes.

Open house a success

Over the weekend more than 500 Haliburton County and Muskoka area residents had their lake water tested by Ministry of Environment personnel at Dorset Public School.

A mobile chemical lab was set up outside where people took the sample of water to be tested.

Two scientists, Frank Tomassini, project scientist for the Acid Precipitation in Ontario Study and Charlie Chun, chief scientist for the chemical field lab in Dorset, were on hand to do the testing and explain results to the residents.

Inside, there were displays of MOE's soil testing techniques and charts showing how weather conditions can be used to predict the level of acid rain falling in a given area.

Another feature of the weekend's activities was the showing of the film, "Crisis in the Rain" which had also been shown at the meeting at the Haliburton Legion Friday night.

This two-day open house is a repeat of a similar event that was held last year and Tomassini said daily testing is done in Dorset if people are interested during the summer for more information.

Charlie Chun explains results of water testing to two interested gentlemen.

SHOCK TALK

Tell children to play safely...away from hydro wires. Touching or coming close to hydro wires can be fatal.

If kites or model airplanes contact overhead lines, even touching the string or control wire can cause serious injury.

If a pet runs up a hydro pole, never climb after it. Wait for the animal to come down by itself.

Climbing hydro poles, fences around electrical equipment, or trees near power lines can be fatal. And remind children not to go near areas marked "Danger" or "Keep Out." Or, the fun could be over.

Congratulations on the opening of your new addition.

From
Ken, Marg and the staff at Dixie Lee, Minden

Light streams through the floor-to-ceiling windows to brighten the freshly laid tables in the new Duke of Minden dining room at the Schnitzel House. Future plans call for the creation of a patio dining area to the rear of the building where patrons will be able to enjoy the tasty Schnitzel House cuisine in a true Haliburton Highlands setting.

Familiar food in a new setting

Something new in dining has arrived in Minden. It comes with a familiar menu, but is placed in a brand new setting.

We refer to the Duke of Minden dining room, a new addition to the Schnitzel House, due to open this weekend.

The new dining room offers a spacious, inviting atmosphere in which to enjoy the fine German and Canadian style dishes the Schnitzel House has become well known for over the years. Under the careful guidance of Otto Homestead, the restaurant has become a popular spot. Now with the addition, the restaurant can accommodate more than double the number of patrons.

The restaurant business is a family affair with the Homesteads. Otto Homestead and his wife Irmgard have brought the great traditions of European dining with them to Canada. Excellent service and tasty, well prepared and served meals have been the hallmarks of their business in the past. Now daughter Wendy and son Peter help to carry on that tradition.

The Duke of Minden dining room continues the Bavarian motif the Schnitzel House started with the original restaurant. The big ornately carved coo-coo clock, a delight to young and old alike when it strikes the hour, has been moved to the new setting. Here, with other interesting items, it adds to the atmosphere of the new section.

After dark, the Schnitzel House has always been known as a pleasant, quiet location for a late meal. That tradition will continue. The Homesteads plan to enlarge the intimate surroundings of the original restaurant later this year. The name of the room has been changed to the Hunter's Den, reflecting the cozy, home-like atmosphere of this pleasant dining spot.

The opening this Saturday evening is rather special. Guests are being asked to contribute $10 per person to the Canadian Kidney Foundation and the Haliburton County Lions Club. The guests will be invited to enjoy the hospitality of the Homesteads during the evening. Everyone is welcome to attend but invitations must be obtained in advance. They are available this week at the restaurant.

Enjoy dining out in the Highlands. Check our restaurant guide - pages 2 & 3.

Guild sale once again a popular event

The nineteenth annual Guild of Fine Arts Exhibition and Sale opened Friday evening at the Haliburton Senior Elementary School.

Once again the event proved to be a popular attraction as one of the largest crowds in the sale's history elbowed their way through the school's gymnasium looking for opening night bargains. In addition to the items from local and provincial artisans, several artists demonstrated their craft.

Just following the official opening the crowd was entertained by a number of selections presented by the Guild choir, (above left), under the direction of Marilyn Stouffer and east Indian dancers, (below), in traditional costumes.

The format of the exhibition was changed somewhat this year as the work was not judged. This aspect of the guild's activities has been moved to the winter sale.

The library at the school was used as a display area for work by students from throughout the county and a number of photographers.

The sale continues at the school until July 15.

Hustlers split pair

The Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers soundly thumped the Downeyville Royals 8 - 1 on a three hitter by Jack Snell Wednesday evening.

The game started off as a close contest in the first two innings as both sides were retired in order but then the locals errupted for 3 runs in the third and 2 more in the fourth to take full control of the game.

The Royals picked up an unearned run in the fifth inning.

The big hitters for the Hustlers were Bernie Nicholls with 3 singles and Gene Newell with 2 doubles.

Sunday loss

On Sunday afternoon in Lindsay the Hustlers, who were short of players due to injuries and absentees, dropped a close contest to the juveniles. It was a closely played contest from start to finish with the locals picking up one run in the third only to have Lindsay score two in their half of the inning. Both teams were held scoreless until the sixth when the Hustlers picked up 2 runs to go ahead 3 - 2.

In the last of the seventh the Juveniles picked up two runs on 3 errors to win the game.

Winning pitcher was Sharman while Snell took the loss.

The Hustlers are currently in first place with a 9 - 3 record and will be out for revenge of their loss as they meet the Juveniles at home this Wednesday night at 8:00 p.m.

Clipping from Sunday's Toronto Star:

In that 1980 agreement Parrot's members won a wage increase of 66 cents an hour - 8 per cent - and a cost-of-living formula that later delivered an additional 4.4 per cent wage hike. There were significant increases in premium pay for night and weekend work, overtime rates, and a reduction of the work week to 37 1/2 hours for 40 hours pay.

No comment!!

Who never wept, knows laughter but a jest;
Who never failed, no victory has sought;
Who never suffered, never lived his best;
Who never doubted, never really thought;
Who never feared, real courage has not shown;
Who never faltered lacks a real intent;
Whose soul was never troubled, has not known
The sweetness and the peace of real content.

Hot and humid on Monday, we hope you are enjoying your holiday here. Cheerio until next time.

SENIOR LEAGUE

by Linda English

Regular activities began on Monday morning with fun and fitness. Later in the afternoon the ladies and gentlemen worked on their projects in the craftroom. After supper it was our pleasure to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Morley Johnston to our home. They showed us many interesting slides of their home in Ecuador, South America, and told us about their missionary work in this country. All those who watched the slides thoroughly enjoyed them and we would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Johnston for sharing them with us.

Tuesday morning Rev. Denny of Haliburton Anglican church held service in the chapel. Barbara Trocewicz accompanied by Agnes Taylor led in the singing of hymns.

Wednesday evening, the student helpers turned out in full force for games night. The residents and students enjoyed an evening of euchre, cribbage and crokinole.

Thursday afternoon the ladies of Gelert brought a delicious lunch for the tea party.

The regular Thursday night bingo's will not be held for the summer months but will resume again in the fall. We would like to give a special thanks to the Kinsmen for holding the bingo every week and the residents are looking forward to seeing them again in September.

Friday afternoon Grace Coburn accompanied by Fred Ballard led the sing-song in the main lounge. Everyone enjoyed an hour of singing along with Grace.

I would like to give a special thanks to Mr. George Tyton of West Guilford who gave us a beautiful floral arrangement for the over 70's dinner. After the dinner the arrangement was placed in the lounge for the residents to enjoy.

Mary Oliver has returned home from a lengthy stay in Wellesley Hospital. Welcome home, Mary, we missed you.

Lines from Lutterworth

by Jean Lacey

Hi! Guess everyone is geared up for holidays. Must be a lot starting them now, if the traffic on the highway is any indication. The rain hasn't dampened anyone's spirit the way they are zipping past the house.

Pleased to hear Mrs. Bert Bowron is back home after her sojourn in Lindsay Hospital.

Fran and Pete Learne with quite a few relatives, aunts, uncles and nieces, were up to the cottage for the weekend. I'm glad to see Fran back on her feet after a bout in hospital.

Tom and Viv Miles and family were up to their cottage.

Bill and Jean Porter with children, Steven and Eddie, were visiting for a few days with Mrs. Lil Porter. Steven is staying on for a few days as well as Norma Melinchuk, who is spending her holidays with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Adamson and granddaughter, Frances Ellis, are up to their cottage for a few days.

Mrs. Dorothy Ellis is up to her cottage for a while.

Hint of the Week

Before taking a baked cake out of the pan, put a layer of soft candy - fudge, chocolate-covered mints, coconut kisses, or whatever - on top; then return cake to the oven long enough for candy to melt and make an unusual frosting. Leave as is, or smooth with a spatula, according to taste.

To know how to grow old is the master work of wisdom, and one of the most difficult chapters in the great art of living.

Kids Korner

I forgot to tell you last week that the Lutterworth Library is having films every Monday night starting around 7:00 o'clock and craft and story time every Thursday (2:00 to 3:00 o'clock) in the afternoon. Hope to see you there.

Hot

by Aileen Fisher

We go for a walk and our arms get pink in the summer.
The road is hot as a sheet of zinc
in summer.
Fish are smarter
don't you think?
they swim where the sun
can't make them blink, and wherever they look there's a drink to drink
in summer!

Long ago and long ago, and longer than that,
Egypt was ruled, so I've been told,
by a beautiful yellow cat!
What was her name?

Cleo Catra, of course!

Why was Cleo Catra so popular?

She had purrsonality

Why did Cleo Catra say "No" all the time?

Because she was the Queen of Denial

What are the little rivers that run into the River Nile?

The Juveniles

What did the Court Artist call his painting of Cleo Catra?

A Pawtrait

She had a handsome young king to help her rule Egypt. Why did the King say his name was Tut Tut?

Because he tuttered

How do you say "Tut Tut" in Egyptian?

Tut Tut in Egyptian

Bye for now. Take it easy. God bless till next time.

It's not work to walk.
So why not walk to work?

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Everett D. Stamp, who passed away on July 8, 1970.
Dad it's been 11 years since you passed away
I'll never forget that sad, but special day
Not long ago you went to be with Mom
And in the future I will be there too.
They say time makes all mends
But for me it can never say enough for friends
There are so many things I'd like to say
I guess they're going to have to wait for that day
Sometimes it gets hard to be
When I realize there is but me
But until the day I come to rest
Just like you dad I'll do my best.
Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by daughter Hazel, son-in-law Jack and grandchildren Debbie, Kathy.
